PEOPLE OF CORINTH
Needed St. Paul's Advice No More Than Do People Today, Rev. J. H. Broderick Declares.

The advice which the great apostle to the Gentiles gave to the people of Corinth as narrated in 1 Cor. x. 6-13, is equally applicable to the world today.

Rev. J. H. Broderick told his congregation in St. Patrick's church Sunday, especially to the young people, that he should not presume to stand, let him take heed lest he fall.

Human nature is the same now as it was in the days when the chosen people of Israel fell into the snares recalled in that apostle's words. Man should not presume too much, either on his own strength, or on the forbearance of God.

Christ's advice to his disciples, Watch and pray, lest ye fall into temptation, should be the rule of guidance of every Christian.

Cigarette, Mattress, Fire.
In the Wilde house at No. 23 Franklin street, where Mrs. McKelvey runs a boarding house, a fire in a mattress, caused, it is stated, by a cigarette, was the reason for a still alarm Sunday morning at 6.14 o'clock. The auto-chemical and chemical company responded. The use of a little water put out the fire, which was confined to the mattress.

I. O. O. F. VETERANS' SUMMER BOATING

Over 200 Spent the Day at Ocean Beach—Secretary Frank W. Upson Was in Charge—Vice President Boyd of Derby is Oldest Member—Henry E. Gay of Norwich Also Has Long Membership Record in the Order.

Over 200 veteran Odd Fellows were at Ocean Beach Saturday in attendance at the annual outing of the Veterans Association of Connecticut. The party arrived at the beach at about 10 o'clock. The remainder of the day was spent as each saw fit, no special programme being arranged for the forenoon. Some of the oldest Odd Fellows of the state were present at the outing. Secretary Frank W. Upson was in charge and the picnicers were ably taken care of.

The first number on the official programme was a shore dinner, which the veterans did full justice to. The dinner was well cooked and well served.

After the dinner the party went to Brocklepeper's dance hall where a private entertainment was given for their benefit. This entertainment lasted for about an hour and a half, after which many of the Odd Fellows journeyed to the city where they spent the remainder of the day.

MAKING APPRAISAL ON RAILROAD PROPERTY.

Crew is at Work on the New Haven Road.

Along on a side track, just north of Webster station, on the Dudley side, says the Webster (Mass.) Times, there is a large car filled with proper tables, drafting and putting into proper report form the physical properties of the railroad.

In the car on this particular part of the job are three men, part of a crew; the others are outside workers, investigating the value of any piece of property owned and operated by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company.

This investigation is very exhaustive and is conducted from Washington under the Interstate Commerce commission, division of valuation, co-jointly with the railroad company.

In connection with the New York, New Haven and Hartford system there are three or four similar appraisal crews, and it is expected the investigation will cover a period of three years.

The enumeration includes every piece of real estate, roadbed, bridge, rail, telegraph, switches, stations and freight depots, turntables, every piece of rolling stock, supplies, etc.

At Webster station, where in charge every detail of investigation, which is reported to the recording part of the crew, who make plans of same for the Interstate Commerce commission.

This section of railroad investigation is completed by Mr. Starnes, representing the United States government, and the interests of the New Haven road is looked after by Mr. Hatch.

The crew at present in Webster is there about a week, arriving in town last Thursday, and is expected to finish work by the end of the week.

The next stopping place will be Putnam. The section of road to be appraised upon by this crew represents 20 miles of track, and it is expected it will be completed by the end of the week.

It was learned that the government and railroad officials are working in complete harmony to determine the exact value of every piece of physical property owned by the railroad.

ONLY STEEL CARS ON NEW LONDON LINE.

General Manager Anderson is to Put New Plan into Effect Wednesday.

Beginning with Wednesday, General Manager Samuel Anderson of the Shore Line Electric Railway company is to put into operation his plan to eliminate the use of open cars from the run from Norwich to New London.

This change has been made necessary through an order from the public utilities commission to discontinue using the open cars with double running boards on Main street, New London, on account of the dangerous condition existing under the present plan of operating the cars, by which, on account of the narrowness of the street, it has been the custom to let down the running board on the track side instead of the open side where there were double tracks.

There will be no change in the running schedule time, but from Wednesday on the semi-convertible steel cars will be the only ones used between Franklin square and New London. The new plan will allow only three cars through car from Tatfield to New London, on which an open car was used, as passengers for New London on this trip will change at Franklin square to one of the steel cars. This is the trip of a quarter past the hour. On the quarter before the hour trip from Franklin square the new steel car will be used on the Willimantic-New London run.
